DON'T copy and paste the address in the browser bar at the top of your screen--it won't work. It might even seem like it works when you test it, but (for a whole bunch of technical reasons we won't get in to) it won't work when you or your students go back and try it another day.

Instead, always look for the Persistent URL (also called PURL, stable URL, Document URL, InfoMark--it depends on the company that produced that database/journal you are using).

The example below show you the name/location of the persistent URL in some of our most commonly used databases/journals. Note that, unless otherwise indicated, you will need to add this proxy prefix to the beginning of the persistent URL:

https://login.libproxy.uregina.ca:8443/login?url=

Alexander Street Press (includes American Film Scripts Online, Black Drama, North American Immigrant Letters, North American Indian Drama, North American Theatre Online, North American Women’s Drama, Opera in Video, Theatre in Video, and others)
Ebsco databases (includes Academic Search Complete, America History and Life, ATLA Religion Database, BNNA, CINAHL, Historical Abstracts, Music Index Online, RILM, RIPM, RISM, Social Work Abstracts, SportDiscus, and others)

To create a link using a DOI, add the following prefix to the DOI number: https://login.libproxy.uregina.ca:8443/login?url=http://dx.doi.org/

So this DOI would result in following link: https://login.libproxy.uregina.ca:8443/login?url=http://dx.doi.org/10.1017/S0022381609090446

Note: EBSCO adds the proxy information for you, so you can just use the Permalink provided, as is.
Gale/Infotrac databases (CPIQ, Expanded Academic ASAP, General OneFile, Literature Criticism Online, MLA, and others)

JSTOR

Last updated August 31, 2016
OVID databases (includes HealthStar, Medline (OVID), PsycInfo, and others)

So this DOI would result in following link:

http://dx.doi.org/10.1177/073428
Project Muse (approximately 400 academic journals in the humanities and social sciences)

Proquest databases (includes ABI/INFORM, Canadian Major Dailies, CBCA—various, Education Database, Proquest Dissertations & Theses, and others)

Hint: Click on the Abstract/Details tab first, in order to see this information.

Note: You do not need to add the proxy preface, as it has already been added for you!
